

SYSTEM

The system we have developed is a python keylogger that logs all the keyboard inputs from a user and sends those inputs to a discord server using discord webhooks. Once the exe is executed the program runs silently in the background and logs all the key inputs of the user.

The solution

One-way users can solve this is by updating to the latest windows. Some users might be using an older version of windows with outdated antivirus software. Users should also make sure that their anti-virus software is running. Anti-Virus software will detect the keylogger and prevent it from running.

Links.

Link to the demonstration <https://youtu.be/Q5Tnn69XBsY>

Link to the discord server with keylogs <https://discord.gg/82vTS6vw>